

Parenting in a Digital Age

Woodstock District 200 is pleased to present guest speaker Robert Hackenson with an important presentation for parents of school-aged children

What do your kids know that you should? Parenting in a Digital Age

Social media can be overwhelming – for both parents and kids. Gain a better understanding of the potential issues and learn a variety of simple tips and tricks to help your child enjoy the best of social media, promote responsible posting, and avoid the pitfalls and potential dangers.

- How to start important conversations about social media with your child
- Popular sites and apps
- Danger zones like cyber bullying, sexting, and predators
- Help teens understand their “digital reputation” and who’s looking? (colleges, scholarships, coaches, others?)
- Other ideas to help parents guide their children and keep them safe

Thursday, Feb. 23 • 7:00 p.m.

Woodstock North High School, 3000 Raffel Road, Woodstock

All are welcome / No registration required

This presentation will also be live-streamed on the D200 YouTube channel at:

www.youtube.com/user/WCUSD200